Reasons for Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The reasons for allowance are summarized in the Applicant's response dated 10/5/05. For example, for claim 1 specifically, the applicant states in his response, that none of the references disclose, "determining, by a computer information regarding one or more inserts" "based on one or more operations of one or more processes needed to form the features of the part". With the applicant's arguments in mind, a continued search on 1/17/06 did not provide any art, which disclose the specific limitations and interdependence of limitations of those, recited in claims 1, 9, 14 and 22.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Relevant Prior Art

2. The additional prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Nishizaka (5742288) discloses a solid model generator used in designing a structural object or solid such as automotive parts, dies sets used on a press, or other components of a structural assembly. Such a solid model generator includes a solid modeler adapted to receive data representative of shapes in specified cross sectional planes of the structural object, and data indicative of attributes of such cross sectional shapes. These shapes and attributes cooperate to define the geometry of the object. The solid modeler automatically generates a solid model of the object according to the received cross sectional shapes and the attributes.

Walczyk (5793015) discloses an apparatus which is designed to continuously cut blank lamination members one-by-one to form a contoured top edge on the lamination members and thereby form a PEL die by forming a three dimensional model of the desired top surface of the die using a computer aided design program. The apparatus stores the die lamination members after they have been cut in a side-by-side stacked array to form a die by clamping together the lamination members. Generally, the apparatus comprises a device for cutting lamination blanks, a means for advancing lamination blanks one-by-one in front of a cutting device.
